“ I remember all those days we spent at the ball parks back in the day, the fun we had then during the growing up of kids we kinda went separate ways but, still kept in touch! What a moment I had when we met up our grandkids playing ball and we were in tune again! I have watched your kids grow up with mine and see the great men they have become! We are truly going to miss you, you made this world a better place! I know you are soaring with the Angels and until that time we meet again rest in peace
Love u Linda !!!!

“ Hey Pops! We are figuring out all this as we go. I guess it's kind of like you have never left us right now. We know you became coherent the very moment you crossed over. My favorite joke you would tell I can't add to this. My favorite memory is all of them. T it up and hit em straight ! Every bass I catch I will always remember the times you now remember that once you forgot! Stay out of trouble young man. Pops I love you!
